Bio

Hello,

I am an Student at the University of South Carolina looking good gym. As an full-time student at the University, I don't have time to waste. When ever I arrive to Strom, all the racks are taken up. The people that be at the racks, don't even be lifting. If anyone know any gyms that are good and not busy all the time please contact me.

Goals/Needs

I need a gym that allows heavy lifts and is not going to have all the racks used up.

Values/Wants

I want to be at a gym where I can be myself and lift heavy.

Frustrations/Fear

I hate having my time wasted going to Strom because nobody wants to lift.

Aspirations

I hope for someone to give me a good gym and hopefully be a lifting partner.

I feel a distinct lack of motivation when it comes to working out, so seeing a long queue or wait time once I show up to the gym can often scare me off.
